

Jeffy's Muessings

Well here goes everyone. I was given the week or two off and have been recalled to duty. Rosarita told me to get off my labunza and get to work. I have issues, well I always have issues. I was informed last week that I was in second on being fined in the club. I want you to know how disappointed I was that I was not the in first place on fines. I work hard to be disruptive and a pain at each meeting. I can not believe that people who refuse to stop whispering and visiting and griping would overshadow my insubordination. I guess I will have to not try harder. Also I could not understand why anyone in our club would fine me for praying. Fine me for taking money out of the can for coffee. Fine me for making fun of many member who deserve to be made fun of. Fine me for never paying my dues till Dennis is at my door step with dapharoe, but never fine someone from praying. I'm sorry, praying too late? How can you pray too late? It is never too late to pray. I'm glad that someday i will not have to stand before YOU KNOW WHO at the Pearly Gates and explain why i fined Jeff Muessig for praying a little late. You ought to be glad I was praying at all. It takes a lot of guts to get up there and pray in front of you guys. Everyone making fun of you and saying with their heads bowed, "I can pray better than that preacher wanna be". You try sometime to squeeze out something in a matter of seconds, and the "pressure". the pressure is immense. Let me tell you it will be a cold day in Alcapulco be for you see me praying again. The only place to be fined for praying is in church. They have that worked out great. everyone there gets to pay to pray at a rate of 10% per prayer of something like that. I hear Catholics pray at a much lower percentage, OK enough about prayer fines.

We have had good turn outs the last few weeks. We have had good speakers the last few weeks too. Good job Donnie. Bob Day came last week and told us about Garland. Let's see...down town something is going up, Eastgate is coming down. On I-30 Bass Pro will be a beaute and at the mall at Firewheel you can "buy a suit". In the square condo's may be on the way and there will be different look at LBJ. Bob says things are happening. They are arguing how long city council people can stay in power. I heard that they will vote and let us know how long that will be when they decide. Well I did not understand that either. I tried to tell Bob that with the new time changes that he could stay another decade or so till all that smoke clears. He would rather go and get another suit. Hang in there mayor, you are doing a good job.

Our guest speaker this week was Jim Gatewood. Jim is a super guest and an even better investigator. Jim has been studying the lives of Sheriff Decker and Bennie Binion the casino tycoon. Mr Gatewood told us about the JFK assassination. He had names and places and facts dating back in to the 1920's. Everything seems in order and it is amazing that a lot of this never came out or I just refused to read a book. It is great to listen to how things seemed to develop around the history of the mafia and the history of the Kennedy's. Jim will be glad to sell you his book or books if you would like one. He also has a CD on the JFK situation

Well, that's about it for now. November will be here soon and we will have our One Nation Under God lunch. I will let you know who the speaker is as soon as I know who the speaker is. Dave please call me and let me know who the speaker is. I have rambled long enough and i need to go now and take the kids to the fair. I hope everyone else goes to the football games and I will not have to put up with you on the fair grounds.

See you Wednesday. UNITY for Service.....Ding!!!!
